$1,000

The Australian Federation of University Women - South Australia Inc. (AFUW-SA Inc.) Trust Fund is offering the above bursary for the year 2018. Money for this award is provided from the bequest of Winifred E. Preedy BDS (1901-1989), a devoted Life Member of AFUW-SA Inc., who graduated in 1927, the second woman to graduate BDS in The University of Adelaide.

Eligibility: This Bursary is open to women undergraduates in the Dental School at the end of their first year up to fourth year, to further their studies in dentistry at The University of Adelaide. Women in full time paid employment or on fully paid study leave during the tenure of the Bursary are not eligible to apply, nor are previous winners of this bursary.

How a bursary may be used: The bursary is envisaged primarily as a short-term aid to assist with the completion of the 2018 academic year. Examples of purposes for which the bursary may be used are equipment or book costs, fees incurred because of study commitments, and short-term assistance with living expenses.

Selection criteria: The selection of the bursary winners is based primarily on the following criteria: academic merit, financial need and the purpose for which the bursary is sought. All of the information presented in the application will be taken into account.

1. certified copies of official transcripts of academic records covering all undergraduate work completed to the end of 2017;

3. curriculum vitae, including employment record; education and training history; a list of prizes or awards held during your tertiary studies, giving place of study, dates and values; any other achievements related to your academic study; and service to the community at large.
4. If you are not an Australian or New Zealand citizen you must provide proof of your entitlement to study in Australia. This would usually be a certified copy of a Student Visa or an Australian Permanent Resident Status Visa.

N.B. If originals of documents are sent, they will not be returned; unsuccessful applications will be destroyed 2 months after the bursary is awarded.
